Territorial – Tlaxihuiqui

The latest release from Die Jim Crow, a non-profit record label for current and formerly incarcerated musicians. Opening in 1871, Territorial Correctional Facility is the oldest prison in Colorado. This powerful recording features music from 7 different inmates and deals with themes of remorse and redemption.

The image shows a YouTube player interface. On the left is the album cover for 'Tlaxihuiqui' by Territorial, featuring several men in traditional Mexican attire. The main area displays the album title 'Tlaxihuiqui' and artist 'by Territorial'. To the right are links for 'buy', 'share', and a 'bc' icon. Below this, the track '7. Just Say No' is selected, with a play button, a progress bar, and a duration of '00:00 / 04:54'. Navigation icons for previous and next tracks are visible at the bottom right.
